cyber security?

We want you!

To take the HackFu Challenge
and kick start
your career.

HACKFU

What's up for grabs?
By taking part in our fiendish online challenge, you could win yourself a highly coveted ticket to HackFu – a cyber security event with no equal. The HackFu experience gives those new to the world of cyber security a 'look behind the curtain', with the chance to network with experienced professionals and gain money-can't-buy experience.

But wait… What is HackFu?
HackFu is an invite-only cyber security event hosted by MWR InfoSecurity, where competitors will find themselves amongst the elite of the hacking world in order to solve a series of mind boggling challenges over the course of two days.

The challenges are set against the backdrop of a wild, interactive storyline in which all must take part in to succeed. HackFu is known for keeping secrets until the very last minute and is often set in outlandish locations – last year HackFu competitors were thrown into a real (now disused) prison!

I like the sound of that. So who are MWR?
MWR are a global cyber security consultancy known for their industry leading research and have been running HackFu for the last eight years.

Where can I find the challenge?
